Albert G. Brewster Stricken With Chock While Hunting-Chimney Fire in Slater Tenement Sunday Evening -Southerly Gale-Birthday Celebra-

Albert G. Brewster was stricken with a slight paralytic shock while hunting in the Lester woods, on Stone Hill, Saturday. There were four in the party, Perle Melvin, his son Sidney, William Vaughn and Mr. Brewster. The elder Mr. Melvin and Mr. Brewster were standing together in the woods when the dog barked some rods away, indicating that a squirrel had been treed. Both men after some casual remark as to securing the game started on a run in the direction of the barking dog. During the run Mr. Brewster lagged a little and Mr. Melvin passed him, noting that he ran with a peculiar halting motion. After Mr. Melvin had shot the squirrel and put it in his game bag he looked for his companion of a minute before, but saw him nowhere. He then called his name loudly, and finally, guided by inarticulate sounds, he found Mr. Brewster lying on the ground with his gun nearby. He was gotten out of the woods and taken home as quickly as possible. A physician was summoned and at once pronounced the trouble to be a slight shock. Sunday Mr. Brewster was no worse. He could use his Albert G. Brewster was stricken with and at once pronounced the trouble to be a slight shock. Sunday Mr. Brew-ster was no worse.
